Direct and Indirect Speech .....

Direct Speech
Inverted commas are used when punctuating direct speech.

Example: "What big teeth you have, Grandma," exclaimed Little Red Riding Hood.

- The exact words of the speaker are enclosed in inverted commas.
- The exact words of the speaker are quoted with no change to their content or order.
- The correct punctuation is used before the inverted commas close.
- There is often a reporting clause to explain who said the words.

Indirect Speech
Indirect speech is sometimes known as reported speech. No inverted commas are used.

Example: With surprise, Little Red Riding Hood commented on how big Grandma's teeth were.

- An adverb or prepositional phrase may be added to explain how, when or where the words were spoken.
- The actual words of the speaker are often changed. Extra words may be added and pronouns may need to be changed.

There are no reporting clauses.
